On May 8, 2019, Oaktree Specialty Lending Corporation (the “Company”, “OCSL”, “we”, “us” and “our”) held a conference call to review its financial and operating results for the second fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2019. During the call, Mathew Pendo, Chief Operating Officer of OCSL, made the following remarks regarding the pending transaction between Oaktree Capital Group, LLC (together with its affiliates, including Oaktree Capital Management, L.P., “Oaktree”) and Brookfield Asset Management Inc. (“Brookfield”) and the asset coverage requirements applicable to the Company under Section 61 of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended:

“And lastly, I’ll provide an update on the pending Brookfield transaction with Oaktree, as well as some corporate governance initiatives we are undertaking.

As you know, the parent company to our investment adviser, Oaktree Capital Group, LLC, entered into a transaction with Brookfield Asset Management, Inc., whereby Brookfield will hold an approximately 62% economic interest in Oaktree’s business, and Oaktree’s founders and certain other members of Oaktree’s management and employees will own the remaining 38% when the initial transaction closes. The transaction is structured so that Oaktree’s current management will maintain actual control of the management of Oaktree, subject to certain limited consent rights held by Brookfield, for an initial period of seven years, or more, following the closing of the deal (or less if certain conditions are triggered).

We do not believe the consummation of the merger with Brookfield would be deemed an ‘assignment’ of the investment advisory agreement between Oaktree and OCSL for purposes of the Investment Company Act of 1940 although such a determination is inherently uncertain. In accordance with the 1940 Act, however, the current investment advisory agreement would automatically terminate upon its ‘assignment’. To prevent any potential disruption in our ability to provide services to OCSL once an ‘assignment’ is deemed to occur, whether as a result of the merger closing or later on as a result of Brookfield exercising actual control over Oaktree, we recommended to our Board, and the Board approved seeking shareholder approval of a new investment advisory agreement between Oaktree and OCSL.

As such, yesterday we filed a preliminary proxy statement. The terms of the investment advisory agreement will remain unchanged from those in the existing agreement, other than changing the date of its effectiveness.

At the same time, we will seek shareholder approval to increase our leverage limits by modifying our asset coverage requirements.

As you will recall, last quarter we received board approval to increase our leverage, effective in February 2020, unless we were to receive shareholder approval before then. While we have no near-term plans to increase our leverage above our target range of 0.7 to 0.85 times, this is an opportunity to cost efficiently seek shareholder approval in the event that in the future we deem it appropriate to deploy higher leverage. In connection with this, our base management fee will be reduced to 1% on all assets financed using leverage above 1.0 times debt-to-equity once the new leverage limits are in effect.”
